CAMPBELL, SANTA CLARA COUNTY, CALIFORNIA.

FRIDAY, MAY 13, 1927

In consideration of the fact that California produces nearly five million pounds of rice annually, the department of animal husbandry, at the State College of Agriculture, conducted extensive experiments last year along lines of utilizing rice and rice by-products as feed for hogs. Prof. E. H. Hughes, of the department, has issued a report of these tests in Bulletin 420, which may be obtained free by writing to the College of Agriculture at Berkeley, Calif. It was found that rice and rice by-products, fed with tankage produced a firm meat, providing the proper balance of ration was maintained. The bulletin gives detailed reports of the various tests and tables setting forth the balance of feeds to be used for certain results.

A record price of $10,000 an acre has been paid to Mr. and Mrs. William H. Bates of Placencia for an eleven-acre Valencia orange grove. The grove was purchased by William M. Wallop, superintendent of the Anaheim Union Water company. Mr. and Mrs. Bates have owned the ranch for the past nineteen years, purchasing it when they first moved to Placencia and setting the acres immediately after acquiring the property. The trees are nineteen years old. Bates paid only a few hundred dollars for the ranch nineteen years ago. An eight-room modern house is located on the ranch. The price of $10,000 is the highest ever recorded for an orange grove in Orange county, according to reports.

The outlook for California fruits to be marketed during June and July is rather encouraging as reports coming from eastern producing sections that peaches have been somewhat damaged by frosts and the crop in North Carolina, Tennessee and North Georgia has been considerably damaged, with a possible reduction of five to eight thousand cars, based on last year's movement. Georgia peaches also are damaged by the curculio and they are experiencing a rather heavy drop. Reports from Georgia indicate that the crop will be around 12,000 cars, as compared with 18,000 a year ago, reducing the possibilities that this season there would be close to 22,000 cars of peaches shipped from Georgia.

Barley is moving rapidly from warehouses in Butte county, according to W. S. Hall of Durham, who, with R. S. Kitzick of Oroville, operates a string of warehouses along the line of the Sacramento Northern railway. The price ranges from $2.40 to $1.45 per 100. Indications are the rice and barley crops will both be sold before the new crops are in. There is some wheat in the warehouses. It was stated that the Parrott Grain fed 25,000 sacks of barley to stock upon its own property this year. Hall stated that the 1927 rice acreage in Butte county will be substantially larger than that of last year.

The spring campaign against the Argentine ant being conducted by the Los Angeles County Horticultural Commissioner's office in co-operation with citrus growers is about complete. Four crews were in the field putting out poison. Sixty gallons of poisoned syrup were being manufactured daily, and thirty-one men put out approximately 20,000 cups a day. In the eastern and southern parts of the county, 35,000 acres of citrus lands were mapped out and as infested acreage and treated.

Imperial Valley's first crate of cantaloupes for the 1927 season was forwarded by air mail to President Coolidge, following the precedent established last year. The melons were grown by Angeli brothers and Luis and the postage on the shipment was slightly over $20. Express consignments are now going out daily. Watermelon growers in the Westmoreland section, center of the industry in Imperial Valley, expected to have their crop ready for market by May 15.

At a recent gathering of the Pomona Valley Poultry Breeders' Association Cornele G. Ross, well known poultryman of Pomona spoke on existing conditions in the poultry business. He cited the increased supplies of both eggs and dressed poultry in storage in California and throughout the larger cities of the United States. In the discussion which followed, the local poultrymen agreed that it was necessary for them to reduce production costs and to be prepared to accept lower prices for both eggs and chickens.

Golden State News of Interest to All

The Napa Flower and Garden club will hold its annual flower show May 14.

At a special election approval was given to a proposed bond issue of $38,000 to provide a new municipal water system for the city of Williams. The present system has been condemned by the state board of health.

High-flying romance came to an aerial culmination last week when Dorothy Lee Weston, youthful auburn-haired dancer, and D. A. Templeman, commercial aviator, were married in an airplane high over Redwood City.

The first shipment of cherries of commercial value left the Sacramento river yesterday. They were from the ranch of E. D. Turner at Isleton and were of the Purple Guigne variety. Two boxes were consigned for auction points in the east.

The West Coast Theaters, Inc., of San Francisco, is contemplating the building of a theater in Oroville. It will have a seating capacity of 1,200 and will cost more than $500,000 with the exterior furnishings. An architect has not yet been selected.

Alex Mosley, Crescent City lumberman and politically prominent there, with his two sons, Harold and Laurence, have been indicted by the grand jury for first degree robbery in connection with the sensational holdup of the Liberty Bank branch, October 15, 1926.

Aphis of many different varieties have appeared in swarms in various parts of the San Joaquin Valley. In Kern county ladybirds are being imported to combat the pests. In Fresno county Fred P. Rouillard, the county horticultural commissioner, has advised a contact spray.

The discovery of new oil pools at Long Beach and the attendant construction of oil apparatus boosted the building permit records of Long Beach to $1,182,300 for the month of April. In view of the fact that only $490,000 was recorded here for April, 1926, the April amount is a considerable rise.

Dr. Kurt Ziegler, German consul-general at San Francisco, will take a two months' leave of absence beginning July 3, according to announcement made last week. Emil Wiehl, first secretary of the German embassy in Washington, will be sent here to take charge of Dr. Ziegler's office during his absence.

Miss Myrtle Larher has the distinction of being the first woman ever sentenced in Nevada county to a jail term for driving an automobile while intoxicated. On pleading guilty to the charge, she was given a $300 fine or a like number of days in the county bastille. Not being able to pay the fine she went to jail.

The packing house district of Watsonville, "The Apple City," was swept by fire last week with a loss estimated at from $150,000 to $300,000. The flames destroyed ten packing houses, twelve residences and three box cars loaded with lettuce. For a time the whole western section of the city was menaced.

Married at nineteen, but now seventy-one, Mrs. Sylvia Spooner, who resides five miles southwest of Willows, has become a grandmother for the fifty-third time. A son was recently born to one of her daughters, Mrs. Carl V. Taylor. Mrs. Spooner has seventy-one living descendants, including six great-grand children. Of her own sixteen children, twelve survive.

Mokelumne Hill, Tuolumne county, is rapidly becoming a center for numerous summer homes. John Heafy, millionaire contractor of Oakland, recently purchased eighty acres of land and the grounds are to be set out in golf course, tennis court, swimming pool and numerous outdoor features. Heafy plans to erect a $25,000 summer home which promises to be modern in every respect.

Thoroughbred hogs from northern and southern California, many of them winners of trophies and ribbons in past competitions, paraded before an expert judges committee last Saturday and Sunday at the show of the Peninsula Kennel club on the Clark estate at San Mateo. The entry list totaled more than 500, making the event the largest of its kind ever held on the Pacific coast.

A test well is to be drilled by Modesto people near Waterford about ten miles south of Oakdale, according to a report. The movement has started chiefly as a result of the striking of gas in water wells. The nearest drilling so far has been close to Oakdale near Knights Landing. One wildcat near Oakdale a few years ago went more than 4,200 feet. It failed commercially but has been reported as having had some showings.

103 FLOATS ARE SEEN IN FIESTA PARADE MAY 7

The most beautiful floral procession in the history of this section of California climaxed the celebration of the Second Annual Fiesta de las Rosas and the 150th Anniversary Exposition of Progress as it moved majestically down the wide and historic Alameda with 103 striking floral floats participating and 450,000 spectators witnessing the lavish array.

Visitors saw the mounted division of 587 riders in full regalia of Spanish dons of a century ago. They marvelled at the elaborate floats from Los Angeles, Pasadena, San Francisco, Oakland, Santa Cruz and other cities of the State. And they enjoyed the martial airs of the 23 crack bands that swelled the length of the parade so effectively.

The beautiful roses and blooms that have made Santa Clara County famous were heaped on the floats in millions. Gorgeous arrays of marigolds, columbines, sweetpeas, carnations, lilies, and violets against backgrounds of Maiden-hair fern and huckleberry. All were profusely evident in the many extravagantly decorated palaces which combined to make it the most successful event of its kind in central California.

Outstanding amongst the many interest-compelling parts of the parade were the historical entries representing the early years of California. The famous Mission Santa Clara Bell, which was presented to the mission by the crown of Spain in 1798, was mounted in a beautiful tower of roses on an old cart drawn by Franciscan padres as of old and followed by several Indian boys of that period. Narciss Castro, the individual who has lived in the county the greatest number of years—87—rode a beautiful black horse. Descendants from the early pioneers entered beautiful floats and on their sides were the dates when their family's earliest representative settled in the State. Painting of the various missions and other features were impressive in adding to the completeness of the entire eventful floral pageant.

The Press is happy to publish this statement which has just been issued by the Valley Water Conservation Association.

To the Friends of Water Conservation: This is a report of progress. Under date of March 30 we set forth the desire of this Association to purchase the upper Page ditch and the ditch of the Santa Clara Valley Water Co., both of which extend northwesterly from Los Gatos creek about two miles south of Campbell. We stated that we needed $4000 by May 1st to make these purchases.

We have paid Mr. Geo. W. Page the sum of $2000 and received the deed to his ditch property. To the Santa Clara Valley Water Co. we have paid one-third of the purchase price of $1750, or $583, and secured a lease with option to buy on or before May 1, 1928. We are grateful to the friends of water conservation whose contributions made possible the purchase of these ditches which are so admirably situated for conserving water by the percolating method.

This big advance step in water conservation in Santa Clara Valley has been accomplished by means of contributions from many orchardists; a few business men; a few canners and packers; a few pump manufacturers and dealers; the San Jose Water Works; and the Pacific Gas and Electric Company.

Our former estimate of $16,000 as the sum needed to purchase and put into working order the two ditch systems on the Los Gatos, and to erect two permanent needle dams in the Guadalupe creek still seems justified and reasonable. This means that the sum of $13,500 is yet to be raised in order to carry out these important projects and be prepared to save some of next winter's flood waters. The money should be in the hands of the Association by mid-summer.

Contributing money to the Valley Water Conservation Association for such projects as here outlined is not giving money away. The contributions are an investment in prosperity; paying money to put more water into the ground is placing it where it will bear a good rate of interest and eventually return the principal many fold.

By the Board of Directors: Nelson Barton, Lloyd Gardner, Warren E. Hyde, J. E. Wiesendanger, Karl E. Bracher, S. N. Hedegard, W. K. Roberts, Max Watson, John A. Fair, Edwin Howes, R. P. Van Orden, Leroy Anderson.

P T A Minstrel

P. T. A. workers of Campbell and Los Gatos are working hard to make the Minstrel Show that is to be given on Friday night—a grand success. Now all that is needed is co-operation on the part of the public. Fine looking end men (?) (that's no joke) will entertain with jokes, dances, and songs. Aunt Dinah's shack will have nothing on these "Dinahs" when it comes to class and their cake walks and negro melodies are worth the price of admission alone. We feel sure that if you come to see the performance you'll go home asinging. "What would we do without—dos Wimmen."

Both the Grammar School and High School Parent and Teacher Associations earnestly request you to show your loyalty to the children's cause; for all proceeds are to go for child-welfare.

Mrs. I. F. Kerr of Delano, Minn., is visiting Miss Kittie Johnson this week. The ladies are old "gopher" friends and Miss Kerr stopped here on a tour of the coast.

CAMPBELL DISPLAYS AT FIESTA TENT

Pres. Chas. Shumway called the Chamber of Commerce to order in regular session Monday evening.

Report was made of the Kiwanis benefit Minstrel show from which the Club turned over $197.92 to the Chamber of Commerce.

A vote of thanks was given the Club for its enterprise and its enthusiastic support of the Chamber.

Pres. Shumway with a corps of assistants erected a very attractive booth in the Consolidated tent which beside attracting much notice carried a message of enterprise and industry. A display of many varieties of canned fruit told the world of the fruit industry, while the walls told of our 20,000,000 can pack for the season and also of the 750,000 baby chicks shipped from here yearly.

The Chamber voted thanks to the workers on the booth and those who so kindly helped during the week.

It was voted to reimburse T. A. Cutting and Chas. Shumway for the expense of both the float and the booth.

A special committee was appointed to place the booth sign at a suitable spot on the highway near Campbell as a "booster." C. H. Whitman, P. H. Dunlap and C. W. Shumway form the committee.

It was suggested that the small trees in the park site be given some immediate care by the committee in charge.

TWO CAMPBELL FLOATS WIN

Campbell was represented by two floats in the Fiesta parade. The Campbell family had an entry in the "pioneer families" division which was awarded fifth place. It was in the form of a peacock, beautifully decorated and attracted much favorable comment. The carrying out of the design and its construction was supervised by Gayno Eddleman and the work and decoration was done by members of the Campbell family. J. H. Campbell, Mrs. Lena Rodeck and N. G. Finley rode in the float, which was driven by G. B. Dodeck.

The high school float was entered under schools outside of San Jose and took first prize in its group. T. A. Cutting worked out the plan, a light house, and the students of the school constructed and decorated the float. Jack Burns acting as master mechanic.

WINS AT ART EXHIBIT

The art classes of the Campbell Union High School are doing fine work this year under the careful instructions of Miss Johnson.

The P. T. A. Federation met at Gilroy and works of art from every school in the county were sent for exhibition. Miss Johnson, the art teacher of Campbell Union High School, sent two of each of the best drawings and articles made in the applied Art Class. At the exhibit the works of art from Campbell were chosen to represent the county at Los Angeles. The people of this community should be proud of such work when they consider that this school's art was matched against that of the largest schools in the county—Clyde Scheuermann.

BAZAAR TODAY

Pundita Circle will hold a Bazaar this afternoon at Campbell Community hall. A quantity of pretty things will be for sale as well as food and home made candy. Tea and coffee will be served. A feature of the entertainment program will be the performance of Joan and Jeanne Halamick the talented musical wonder children.

SCHOOL OPERETTA BIG SUCCESS

"It was a great success and most remarkably well done." This and similar remarks were heard on every side following the operetta. The scene, in the Shah's garden, was most artistic and effectively arranged. A real garden fountain with water constantly playing through colored lights created much favorable comment. This was the idea and work of Wilbur Whitney of the mechanics department. Other decorative scenery and structures were the work of the art department in charge of Miss Kittie Johnson and the mechanics classes. So well trained were the participants that much credit is due the coaches, Miss Jenkins and Miss Boesch as well as the performers. The colorful costuming was under the direction of Miss Gardner, domestic science instructor.

The solos and duets by the principals, Ruth Matteson, Dick Lynden, Annette Merrill, Eugene Tainter, Opal Overshiner, Jack Murdock, Stephen Merrill and George Mattos were exceptionally well sung and elicited much praise both for them and their instructor Prof. Jos. Halamick. The choruses sang a number of pretty songs with suitable dance steps by the various groups. The high school orchestra directed by Mr. Thielke played the overture and several shorter pieces.

The Miss Joan and Jeanne Halamick added several delightful vocal an diolvin numbers to the program between acts, much to the pleasure of the audience.

DR. DE VOSS TALKS AT KIWANIS

E. Russ Kennedy served the state well as chairman at Kiwanis luncheon Wednesday and never missed a dime, everybody being visited by Vic Holmes with the shkel box.

By way of novelty treats, Jimmy Nichols served the Club with a sax solo accompanied by Veva Nichols at the piano. Hugh Cramer played a difficult piano solo and both were heartily applauded.

Dr. DeVoss of the State College of San Jose gave an interesting short talk on the "Attitude of Man" and his ability to place himself in the position of others. One should approach ideas of his fellow-men without heat and be able to see them from the other's view point. Some one has said one cannot be sympathetic unless he is first pathetic which gives him an attitude gained through experience.

Dr. DeVos always has a man's sized message to deliver and delivers that message in a way readily understood. He is always a welcome number on Campbell's programs.

Our new Canadian flag occupied a place beside our own for the first time in the Club.

Dr. Merrill gave a booster talk for the P. T. A. Minstrel Show tonight.

George Burrow will occupy the seat of authority and labor next week and Attorney S. G. Thompson of San Jose will be the speaker of the hour.

Helen Lenox and Lois Rice of the Campfires served at the tables.

WELDED LINKS IN THE MEETING POT

Do you realize that according to the U. S. census of 1920 there are 1,923,325 Norwegians in the United States, either born in Norway or one or both of whose parents were foreign born; and that, according to the same census, there are actually upwards of a half million residents of the United States who were born in Norway? These figures become more significant when we realize that the population of Norway in 1920 was only 2,649,775.

And because of this sturdy element of Norsemen making up the one-hundredth part of America's great "melting pot," it is fitting to call attention to May 17, Norway's Constitution Day, celebrated and held dear by Norsemen wherever they may be. Under its Constitution, adopted May 17, 1814, Norway became a constitutional hereditary monarchy, though not by any means absolute, as the people of that kingdom exercised and enjoyed freedom and legislative power similar in effect to republics. This was due to a strong national character backed by a constitution.

The Norsemen love their Constitution as Americans love theirs. In fact, the strong individual national character belonging to the people of Norway, combined with their conservatism, their development in the arts, music and painting, their strength in the mercantile marine industry, (which until the beginning of the World war was exceeded only by Great Britain, Germany and the United States) means that all Americans can take from them lessons of strength and loyalty.

To the Norseman in America a word of tribute is due. Allegiance is born in him. On a day of patriotic celebration of an American historical event you will find the American flag flying in front of a Norwegian's home, perhaps a little sooner than his neighbor's flag is unfurled. When he speaks, his words are appreciative of American liberty and of American institutions. It is born in a Norwegian to be patriotic, and he readily adjusts himself to conditions. Because of the sturdy, patriotic character of the sons and daughters of Norway, America has added a strong fabric to her national life.

MISSISSIPPI VALLEY RECONSTRUCTION

Sufferers from floods in the lower Mississippi valley will find their hardships partly atoned in the reconstruction that will come. This has always been the case in similar misfortunes. Instead of the voice of one city or one community, it will be the reassurance of a great fertile territory destined to continue its agricultural prosperity.

The government of the United States has no greater burden in the coming years than to combine its financial resources and engineering skill to prevent floods, which carry in their wake famine and destruction. The plea of the people in the delta country will be joined by those in the valleys of the Colorado, Ohio, Missouri, Arkansas, and wherever floods occur as potential menace to life and prosperity.

The "bright side of disaster" is rehabilitation on a sounder basis than before. The first mark of progress is protection from the elements, and safety measures through mechanical and artificial means. After that can come the uninterrupted flow of commerce, education, the arts, social progress and a higher civilization. Until then the people in flood districts are at the mercy of uncontrolled waters.

Advertising is getting more dependable all the time. This is because the people who write the ads are getting more dependable all the time. In this age when advertising is looked upon as reliable and dependable, the reasons and necessities for it in all successful business become more apparent.

Time is money all right, but it's a lot cheaper to drive slow than to have an accident and pay damages for your folly in trying to save time.

The Imperial Grain Growers, with headquarters in Brawley, will ship hay co-operatively hereafter. An office for the purpose will be maintained in Los Angeles. A fixed charge of $1 a ton is made for the selling service.

According to the 1927 crop forecast recently released by Water Superintendent Frank Smith of the Turlock irrigation district, cantaloupe acreage in the district shows a decrease of 1,150 acres from last season. Casabas and honey dews will be slightly increased, while watermelons will remain about the same.

Shipments of early strawberries are now leaving Newcastle daily for Nevada, Utah and Wyoming points. The first consignment left through the Newcastle Fruit Growers' association, having been grown on the Hunt and Easter ranch in the vicinity of Rocklin. The berries now going out are of the Gold Dollar variety.

Ninety per cent of the Gravenstein apple growers of Napa county have signed contracts to market their crops through the new association which is composed of growers of Napa and Sonoma counties. Directors of the association say they hope to sign a full hundred per cent of Napa county producers before shipping begins.

It's no longer "ladybug, ladybug, fly away home." Today the ladybug is highly popular with agriculturists of Kern county, fighting a plague of flying aphids. The ladybug (hippoboscids convergens) is gathered in sacks near the snow line of the bordering Sierra and brought to the valley to fight the aphids, or buffalo gnat, which is its natural prey.

State gasoline revenues under the new three-cent levy adopted by the legislature which is believed certain of signature by Governor Young, will aggregate in excess of $24,000,000 per year. It is estimated by financial experts. Increased travel in the state, it was pointed out, jumped receipts under the two-cent tax for the quarter just ended to $4,332,586.62. This was a gain of $382,564.77 over the corresponding period a year ago. Under the two-cent tax the receipts are divided equally between the state and the various counties for highway construction work, but the additional cent tax will be used exclusively by the state for new construction.

"Flunk" in his final examinations, Khumar Shri Madhavshiji, prince of Kathiwar, India, and reported to be a former school mate of the Duke of York, en route to England, where arrangements are being made for his marriage to a princess of his native land, it was learned at the State College of Agriculture at Davis, where the prince has been a student during the last fifteen months. The prince left for London, traveling by way of Washington, where he said he had a luncheon engagement with President Coolidge. College authorities said the prince has indicated he will make the trip back from India next year to take the tests over again.

The stork ran a losing race in California last year, falling below the totals reported for the preceding twelve months, the state bureau of vital statistics has disclosed. Births for the year totaled 82,572. Los Angeles county reported 31,036 new native sons and daughters as compared with 32,627 in 1925; San Francisco 8,342 as against 8,657; Alameda county, 6,739 against 6,874; and San Diego county 3,112 as compared with 3,181 in the preceding period. Pre-School Drive Marked Success

We are happy to announce that fifty pre-school children were examined at the Grammar School on Monday and Tuesday of this week. This means that wise parents are seeing the necessity of getting the kiddies in fit shape for school work. At last the child from two to six, is being given a place in the sun. Health and habit clinics are meeting the problem of the Pre-School child with an earnestness that encourages parents to ask for help that they may better understand this important period of childhood.

The P. T. A. book-shelf at the Campbell library has a fine assortment of books and magazines containing articles on the Pre-School Child—his habits and needs. This was made possible by the united efforts of the Sixth District—Chairman of Pre-School and the local librarian and is open to any and all who read. Let us work to have all the children 100 per cent when they enter school.

May I take this opportunity of thanking all who helped to make this drive a success particularly Mrs. Merrill and Anderson who rendered their services willingly and free of charge and to Mrs. Weiss our efficient school nurse and the enthusiastic P. T. A. members who willingly offered their services.

Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Sturtevant left last week for a stay of several months in Montana. During this time Mrs. Sturtevant will go to Detroit to be present at the graduation of a niece.

Mrs. J. A. Moore, Mrs. Jessie Silberbauer and Mrs. J. H. Campbell have been in Sacramento representing the Ada Rebekah Lodge at the session of the grand lodge.

WEEK'S LONE SCOUT

The Campbell Lone Scout Wigwam held its monthly meeting on the night of the 7th. At eight p. m. the meeting was called to order by the night's chairman, Willard Loughlin. Plans were made for a state Pep Club and all made a resolution to help boost Lone Scouting within the state.

After the business meeting the scouts, accompanied by the Medicine Man, Mr. Cutting, journeyed to the creek where they spent an enjoyable time, toasting weiners and marshmallows, telling stories and playing games. A "Wally-wampus" hunt was staged to end the evening's activities.

CAMP FIRE SPARKS

The Cherokee Camp Fire Girls beautified the high school yard by planting a tree on the front lawn. The tree is a beautiful little Norwegian spruce four years old. Every girl had some part in the planting of the tree so that it has no choice but to grow. This tree, tall and beautiful, will be a symbol of Camp Fire for years to come.

A mother and daughter banquet will be held Thursday night, May 12, at Schofield hall, at the Y. W. C. A. Every Camp Fire Girl must come and bring her mother.—Polly Maxon.

Queerness of Human Nature

It is exceedingly queer how we human beings have a habit of feeling sorry for ourselves for having to do something which is not half so hard as some things we take great joy in doing. This is well illustrated by the way I spent the week-end just passed.

I had been cherishing the delusion all week that I would lie in bed late Saturday morning, there being no school. To my great disgust I had to rise at seven o'clock, after being asked several times if I intended to lie in bed all day. I spent the entire morning and half the afternoon trying to do as little work as possible, meanwhile considering myself a martyr and cogitating all sorts of ways to get out of it.

My behavior Sunday, however, showed a sudden startling change. I climbed willingly out at a quarter to three and swallowed my breakfast whole. Daylight found me helping push a crawling Ford up a hill. When the end of the road was reached I walked a mile down a steep hillside covered with poison oak and wild blackberries to get to the creek. Then I walked five miles over old logs and boulders trying to catch fish, but only succeeded in getting my feet wet. The hike back up the hill side took two hours, with the sun shining torridly all the way.

What I got out of the fishing trip was a sore throat, plenty of poison oak, a large supply of bruises and scratches, but no fish. The queerest part of it is that next Saturday I shall feel as sorry for myself, as ever, and the next time I get a chance to go fishing I shall go, probably with the same results.

Mrs. Cowles Writes from South Africa

Isaac came to me one day, for the first time embarrassed. He is so big and strong and manly and straightforward one can hardly imagine him having an attack of squirms. But he had them that day, and for sometime I sat waiting, wondering what on earth had happened to Isaac! At last, it came, in a very low bass voice. "I have seen her Nkosikazi. I know now who I want." Then he told me who had won his heart. One of my former Sunday School girls. "Abigail," her real name is. She is the cutest, daintiest little model in ebony, with a witching smile. "Rebecca is quite short and comes below Isaac's shoulder. She is not black but quite brown, while Isaac is light yellow. I called "Rebecca" over here the other day, and for one afternoon, I gave those two, a chance to see each other, unobserved. In Africa, such chances are usually stolen, and in the bushes but these two, don't do it that way. Both these young people are determined that their courtship, shall be CHRISTIAN and an example to their people for in this heathen land, courtships are still crooked affairs. A time of great anxiety to us, missionaries. Abigail, is a girl with a very clean record, and she belongs to one of the best families on the Station. A Christian family noted for its enterprise. Isaac, though not so well educated, is brother to his Chief and truly a "Prince of a boy." I watched him kill a snake the other day. As soon as the great, green wriggling thing, is telling of this one and that one came towards him, Isaac seemed to be on springs. He darted up to it, and away from it, and around it with every muscle in his body coming into play. Finally two or three swift blows, from his uplifted stick, dispatched the thing, then he tossed his stick away, told a small boy to throw the snake into the bush and walked off as unconcerned, as if he had swatted a fly! It was just every day business with him, but in those few moments I could see in our "Billy Sunday," the Zulu warrior, with his uplifted assegai running over the hills with that wonderful springy stride, so characteristic of our Zulus. It was only three years ago that Isaac was dressed in skin aprons, and bead work, and he with his young chief led off in all the heathen dances. They were called the "Namba Wan's" (Number ones) and it used to be remarked at weddings, that the dancing hadn't begun yet, not until the "Number ones" arrived. It was this same Number One, who in my Office the other day speaking of "Rebecca" said "Oh Nkosikazi, I am afraid, I am so afraid lest this great new love, should take first place in my heart. That must never happen. My love to Jesus must always be first." As Isaac said this, with his great brown hand over his breast, what a miracle he seemed, what an illustration of the power of the Gospel to save. I often watch him as she stands out in front of the house blowing his horn, that precious cow's horn which he has named "The American Board." I love its deep low rumble, which can be heard two miles away. It is such a splendid rally call. Usually after the first long blast, another horn will reply from another part of the Station. This means that another preacher is coming. And so over the hills they go, blowing their horns. Very soon a little company of dressed and undressed will gather in the hut of some kraal, and two or three hours later, the children say "Isaac is coming, we hear his Chief and truly a "Prince of a boy." And very soon our "Billy Sunday" is back in the kitchen again and with glowing face who has chosen Jesus.

Isaac has been in our kitchen a year now and I can truly say, it has been one of the richest experiences of my missionary life to have been associated with this wonderful Zulu boy in my kitchen and in God's work. He leaves us and goes to Johannesburg, where he can get double the money we can pay him. He must earn money to build his house, and we feel it will broaden Isaac to go to Johannesburg and have a part in evangelizing

Electric Cookery is Better Cookery

The Scientific Way to Cook

There is as much science in cooking as there is in manufacturing. If you are an experienced cook you have it "down to a science." Even so you may have a failure occasionally. And if you are a novice at cooking your failures are more frequent.

Every owner of an Automatic Electric Range is a scientific cook. You prepare the dinner, place it in the oven, set the controls for time and temperature as specified in any modern cook book. Your meal will be a success the first time and every time. Guesswork is eliminated.

Come in and let us tell you about the Many other advantages of the Electric Range.

that great, wicked city, which has rightly been called "A university of crime for the native." My sister, Mrs. Bridgman and Ruth, and Mr. and Mrs. Catlin, are all there to give Isaac, a guiding hand. Through the help of Miss Weir and Ruth, Isaac has just been offered a position in the packing house of a large firm in Johannesburg, with a Christian man in charge. Isaac will earn five pounds a month and have Sundays free for preaching. Ruth's letter telling of this offer, came last eve. When I told Isaac he caught his breath, and exclaimed "Oh Jesus! To think what He has done for me. First He saved me, then He brought me here, and now this! Tell me, Nkosikazi, how can I thank Him?" Dear Lad! Nobody knows better than we do, of all the pit falls which will surround him as he goes from us, and there are plenty enough right here. But Isaac is God's own and we will have faith to believe that the temptor will never snatch away this consecrated boy.

Hope for the retention of the San Francisco land office faded when Edmund Robinson, assistant register, received orders from Washington to report for duty at the Sacramento office July 1. Since it was announced several weeks ago that the San Francisco land office would be consolidated with that at Sacramento and the Visalia office merged with the one in Los Angeles, chambers of commerce and other organizations have made vigorous protests to Washington. The consolidation is made for economic reasons, the interior department announces.
